EXERCISE 172 (p. 13 Arabic Reader).

"THE SPEECH OF KINGS IS THE KING OF SPEECH."

When these pupils had finished their song, His Majesty the King drew them near to him (lit: to his thresholds) and gave (delivered) them the following golden advice.

"My children, although you are to-day but babes, yet you will become men to-morrow, and the future is in need of upright men who will make a good job of the work which is committed to them. and who will benefit their people (lit; whiten their face) by their good deeds. This can only be by cultivating morals first and knowledge second. Learning only exists for refining morals and purifying the race (lit: origins) and teaching (lit: accustoming) people to good conduct (lit: walk) towards the felicity of this world and the next. Thus learning (science) is a means to that, nothing more. Now if you understand the rudiments of your religion and study the life of your ancestors and your literature you will find in that a lighthouse to lighten for you the path of felicity (i.e. here and hereafter). And you will repeat your history, which is full of excellencies (lit: things to boast about) and noble deeds. Truly your country is in need of hands which benefit the world (lit creation) with what God (The Truth) bestowed upon them of the earth's treasures, its minerals, and its waters, and its elements. Then take a new step (make a new departure) in agriculture, manufacture and commerce, for we are of those whose religion orders them to work hard. Then be active and try to be worthy posterity of worthy ancestry (good sons of good parents).

I shall seize, if God will, the (first) opportunity to visit you in your class-rooms; and financial grants will be provided for all schools to unable them to realise these prospects; a scientific society has already been formed to consider the means of promoting education according to the needs of our country; there only remains for you to endeavour to be men. (From Al-Qibla).

EXAM: PAPER 200, page 448 I. A. THE MONEY-BAG.

A person went out with a money-bag to the market to buy a donkey. A man met him in the road and said to him: "Where to?" (Where are you going?). He said, "To the market to buy a donkey." He said, "Say, If God Most High will." He said, "This is not the place for 'if God will': the money is in my pocket and the donkey is at the market." When he arrived at the market, a thief struck his pocket and took the bag. When he returned home, that man met him and said to him, "Where from?" He said, "From the market 'if God will,' and I did not buy the donkey, 'if God will,' and lo: I am a bankrupt, 'if God will,' and the curse is upon you, 'if God will."

I. B. See page 321 for translation of "Al-Rashid."

2. (a) Historians (traditionists) have related that Noah was the first prophet sent, and that his people worshiped idols instead of God. Noah was sent to them and called them to God, but they used to assault him and ridicule him. God revealed to him that he should build the ark (lit. God revealed to him: "Build the ark") because they were to be drowned. He constructed it from teak wood, making it 300 cubits long and 50 cubits wide.

3. Six only of these to be answered.

m Y is "negative of the genus," it negates all, its m Ism is منصوب but its Khabar is الله the Exception after الله in $m \it Neg.$ Sent. is مرفوع like the Khabar.

without عرفوع Ibrahim (standing alone) is يَا ابْرِ هُمِيُ خَلَيلَ اللهِ tanwin in the vocative; but Khalil being in Construct State to Allah is منصوب negated منصوب are both قوة and قوة are both حول - لاَ حَوْلُ قُوَّةً إِلاَّ بِاللهِ

Beit-ul-Maqdisi would be more correct. Beit-ul-Muqaddas is weak. Al-Beit-ul-Muqaddas would mean "The Holy House," whereas the others may be rendered, "The House (or rather, The City) of the Sanctuary."
